Foreword

You now possess a 1960 edition of the Brown and White. When you glance through your yearbook, it will recall to you the triumphs and sorrows of the past year at Greensburg High School. You will also be viewing the "people" of our school. As time goes on, the people will change but fond memories will remain untouched.

With the information you have given us, the Brown and White staff members have compiled this yearbook. The first thing you will notice is the new cover, other things have been either added or omitted this year to bring to you what we feel is a better Brown and White. We present it to you with hopes that you like it.

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL

Sponsor - Ushers.

Coping with the various problems of running a school system, our administration managed to come through with flying colors. This year seemed to be a year of changes. The split schedule became permanent, our high school became Greater Greensburg-Salem High, a new school waved temptingly in the offing, and our school system expanded. With new students, came new problems, but our administration proved itself worthy of the challenge.

Senior Introduction

The thoughts of the graduating class of 1960 return to Greensburg High School. The priceless memories gathered through these wonderful years are a part of us always; our joys and our sorrows. All the brutal injustices, scars, and mental strain we suffered are forgotten as the glorious title "Senior" is attached to our name. Looking back we envision three successful years under the guiding hand of Miss Barnes, our class sponsor. Reaching the summit of our high school years, we can only look forward to the future with the hope that each will continue to strive for success and happiness. We leave G. H. S. in June, but our spirits remain forever.

Foreign Exchange Student

For the fourth consecutive year, Greensburg High School has had the privilege of receiving an American Field Service exchange student from Europe.

This year coming to us from France was Frank Schon. Frank's home is in Villé, which is in Alsace, an area often claimed by both France and Germany. Frank's American home was with the J. C. Wilmes family on Kenneth Street.

Occupying much of Frank's spare time were S. G. A., French Club, Jr. Friends of Art, Audio Visual, and speaking before many community groups. As president of the French Club, Frank regaled the members with his self-produced and directed movie on the life of a typical French teenager. Mrs. Rutledge felt particularly fortunate to have Frank play the part of Monsieur de la Croix in the senior class play.

In France Frank attended the College du Doctor Koeberlé Selestat and enjoyed traveling, parties, and movies in his free moments. Upon returning to France, Frank plans to continue his education at the University of Strasbourg. Since both his parents are pharmacists, Frank is going to study pharmacy.

Frank said, "I learned quite a lot and enjoyed my stay," and we say, "Bon Voyage," to Frank.

HEY REMBRANDT!

Alma Mater

What is this which morning sunlight
Gilds with golden beams?
'Tis our noble Greensburg High School
Castle of our dreams.
Eager faces, bright, and joyous,
Greet thee day by day:
Hastening toward thy halls of learning,
Sing this joyous lay.

Chorus:

Raise the chorus! Keep it ringing,
That all hearts may bless;
Pealing o'er the hills of Greensburg,
Hail our G. H. S.

Breezes murmur through the treetops,
Round her turrets high,
Telling that with patient study
Victory is nigh.
When our footsteps have departed
From thy learned halls.
Other forms shall fill our places,
Praise thy stately walls.

Chorus:

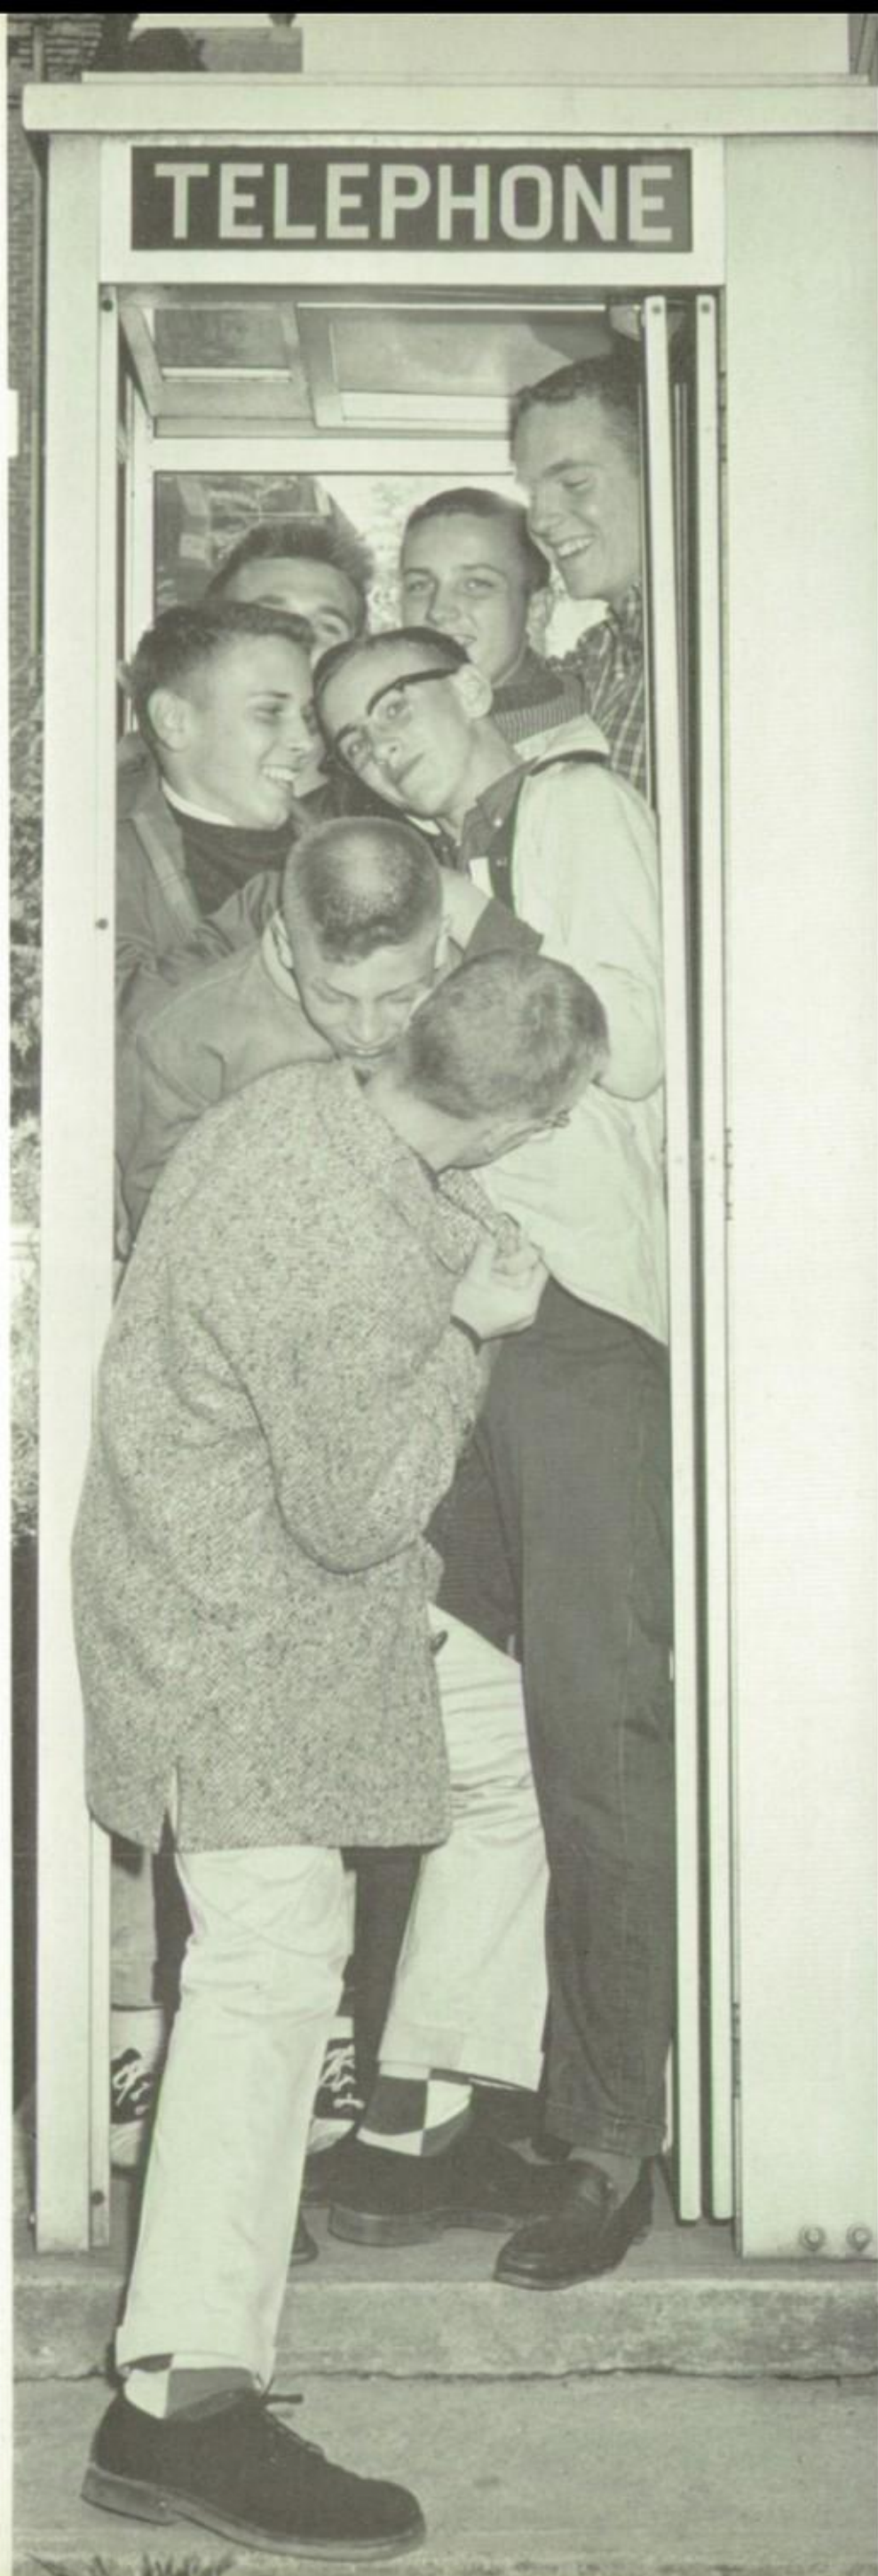

Dear old High School we'll forget thee
Not in after years;
No, our lips shall ever gladly
Speak thy highest praise.
In our future eager climbing
Up Fame's golden stair,
All unite that long past schooldays
Were all most fair.

Looking back on the year gone by, we juniors find ourselves one step closer to our destination, graduation.

We can also recall the exciting moments when our team brought in another victory, displaying our great school spirit!

Chemistry classes were filled to overflowing with the juniors eager to explore the world of science.

Receiving class rings was an unforgettable moment for many a junior.

With spring fever came final exams, but we made it . . .; we had to, or how could we be the senior "Class of '61."

Jane McCormick, Mike Shultz

We, the members of the sophomore class, can now look back on the past year with happy memories and this thought in mind: "One down, two to go." In retrospect, we remember our first year as senior high students. These memories recur to us: the leaves we collected for our biology classes, the pep assemblies, the tired feeling that always lasted at least until third or fourth period, the making of new friends, and meeting of new people. Looking forward, we realize that the past year, with its accumulation of experience, knowledge, fun and friends, is all in preparation for the years to come—the remaining years of our high school lives and the years beyond.

Brown AND White

William O'Halloran, Editor-in-Chief

Now after months of work, we, the Brown and White staff, give you the 1960 Brown and White, a product of luck and labor.

"Where is that thesaurus?" was the cry of the writing staff until senior write-ups were completed. Pushed ever onward by editor-in-chief, Bill O'Halloran, the writing staff strove for "unity, coherence, and emphasis."

Scheduling and re-scheduling the mass of pictures which depict the life at G. H. S. was the job of Eileen Joyce, picture editor, and the picture staff.

Sometimes business manager, Sarah Erb, and treasurer, Ellen Passmore, wished that Michael Anthony would bring them an anonymous gift of one million dollars.

Typists, Sonnie Coates and Marlene Myers diligently typed all the copy entered in the Brown and White.

Main recognition goes to our sponsor, Miss Custer, and our business advisor, Miss Young. Because of their advice and guidance, the staff was able to produce your yearbook.

Viewing and captioning the pictures brought back many memories of the year's struggle. When the yearbooks arrived for distribution, we turned the pages with a feeling of pride and hoped for your stamp of approval.

Greensburger

Compiling the Greensburger is an interesting task which we will try to explain.

The editors hand out articles to the reporter as soon as the previous paper is completed.

After a week the articles are turned into the editors who correct them. They are sent to Miss Custer's fifth period secretarial training girls who type them. The typed articles are then given to the Greensburger's typist, Mrs. Bungard, to be typed in columns on a large sheet of paper called a dummy sheet. After the articles are typed on the dummy sheet just as they appear in the paper, the editors place headlines, pictures, and artwork.

All of the completed dummy sheets, of which there is one for each page, are sent to the lithographer, Mr. Halldin. He takes a picture of the dummy sheets and prints the paper from them. This takes two or three days.

After this entire process, which takes about three weeks, another GREENSBURGER is presented to you.

Student Government

Government is a contrivance of human wisdom to provide for human wants

Treasurer Sally Beile

OFFICERS

The Student Government Association is a miniature democracy established to maintain the standards of Greensburg High School. Each member, whether representative or officer, pledges to uphold the standards of truth, duty, and honor.

Each spring the entire student body has the privilege of electing the officers who will preside the following year. Homeroom representatives are elected early in the fall by the individual homerooms. It is their duty to present problems and views suggested by individuals in the homerooms to the council. Informing the homerooms of all important business is also a necessity.

This year S. G. A. sponsored the Christmas Dance, the Sadie Hawkins Dance, and the May Queen Coronation along with the magazine campaign, Old Clothes Drive, paid assemblies, and the foreign exchange program. A successful Dress-Up Day and a shocking Clash Day were instituted this year to encourage school spirit. A Student Directory and a Program of Studies were secured through the efforts of this worthy organization.

The appreciation of the S. G. A. is extended to Mr. Landis, advisor, and Miss Custer, co-sponsor; and to the student body for its co-operation.

Special Choir

Under the direction of Mr. Donald Meiser, the special choir lent its efforts to provide fine musical entertainment for both school and community.

Representing our choir in the State chorus were: Robert Murray, Marjorie Walthour, Nancy Hershberger; District chorus: Robert Murray, Marjorie Walthour, Nancy Hershberger, Marjorie Stauffer; County chorus: Robert Murray, Nancy Hershberger, Marjorie Walthour, Marjorie Stauffer, JoAnn Goff, Linda Garner, Carolyn Zappone, William Gault, Ted Carter, Richard Weikart, Susan Hansen, Patricia O'Malley, Audrey Lavchick, Carole Maness.

Breathes there a soul so dead who has never thrilled to a marching band. Anyone who has heard our seventy-nine piece band would never believe so. Under the direction of Glenn Davis, who was ably assisted this year by Graham Grubb and student director, William Scott, the Greater Greensburg-Salem

High School band has played for assemblies, parades, and other functions in the area. The band provided stirring music for the Veterans Day celebration at the Museum, and entertained hundreds more at their annual band concert. The band was honored this year by having several of its members travel to various concerts in the area. Participating at the County Band Festival at St. Vincent were: Roberta Kunzler, clarinet; William Scott, clarinet; Melvin Cochran, alto sax; Dennis Felice, tenor sax; Richard Evon, bass sax; John Garlotta, cornet; and James McCormick, trombone. Participating at the District Band Festival at Turtle Creek were: Thomas Leasure, Melvin Cochran, and James McCormick.

Besides the sixty-five piece marching band there were nine majorettes, four color guards, and a drum major. Charlotte Albright, head majorette, and her eight supporting majorettes pranced and kicked at parades and football games. The color guard marched at the head of the band, proudly bearing our national and school colors. And who can ever forget the sight of Jeff Loux strutting across the football field, bearing his baton aloft. Within the band itself was the stage band of twenty members. The stage band performed at assemblies, concerts, and the intermissions of the senior class play.

Like any well run organization, the band elected officers President David Poscich; secretary-treasurer, Roberta Kunzler and a governing committee. The band committee, which meets with the officers and student director, consisted of Melvin Cochran, James McCormick, Alvin Sheffler, and Patricia Gettemy.

The entire band deserves a vote of thanks for providing Greensburg with a fine program of band music.

The blood more stirs to rouse a lion, than to start a hare

With Head Coach, Robert Williams, guiding the gridders from Greensburg High School for his fifth year, all winning seasons, the Golden Lions compiled a 6-4, won-lost slate.

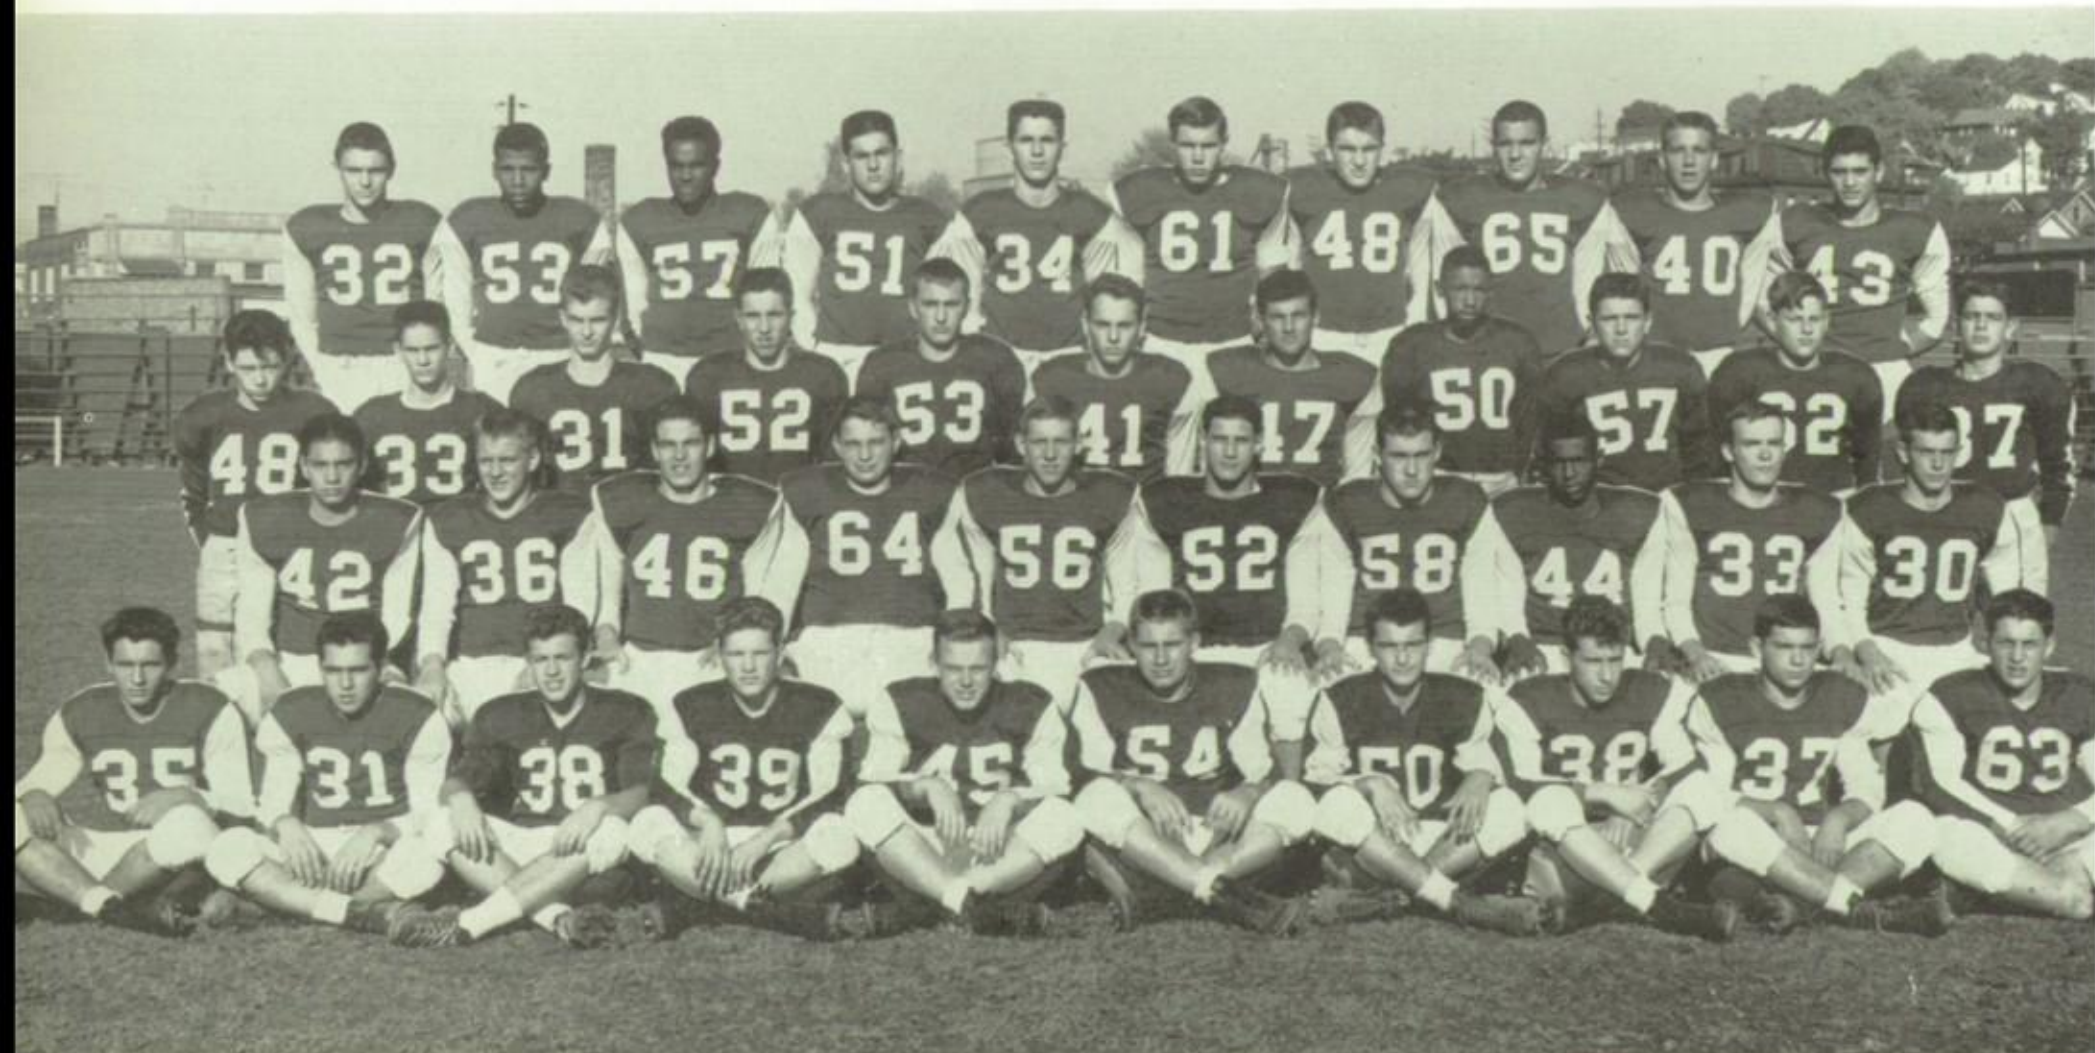

The 1959 season was highlighted by many exciting events. Capped by the 25-0 flaying of Hempfield, the naming of several boys to all Foothills-Conference Team and All County Team provided a thrilling termination to the football frays. Back, Joe Rollins and end, John Straka were named to All Conference first team. Receiving berths on the second team were Ron Silvis and lineman George Voytovich. Greensburg's representation on the All County Team mirrored the quality player which attends Greensburg High. Joe Rollins and George Voytovich landed positions on the first team. John Straka, George Macko, John Pignetti, Henry Frelick, and Ron Silvis were placed on the second team.

Throughout the year, the team proved their ability to recover from stunning setbacks and shine with glory. Following our loss to the overwhelming aggregation from Hurst, the boys came back and pounded a strong Connellsville team by the score of 46-26. After a very powerful Latrobe squad, eventually conference champs, inched past us by the score of 14-6, our team left Hempfield "eating our dust." The 1959 version of Greensburg High School football was one which showed the true spirit of G. H. S.—a never say die spirit.

At various times throughout the season, we students were quick to criticize our football team. These fellows all season long put their all into making a team of which we could be proud. Considering the conditions under which these boys were forced to practice, the split-schedule, they did a most commendable job. How many of us could have done the same? They merit credit for a job well done.

Under the direction of coach James Sibley and assistant coach Harry Folk, the cagemen of Greensburg High School won thirteen and lost nine during the regular season to finish with a better than average season. Senior cagemen, John Pignetti, Jim Himmelwright, "Skip" Surovy, Tom DeFloria, Paul Benko, Bob Banner, Chuck Hugus, and Steve Thomas helped pace the Lions to a fourth place sectional tie.

Entering the county tournaments as a dark horse, a fired up Greensburg team surprised everyone by trampling Vandergrift 55-43 and Penn Joint 62-37. In a thrilling upset victory over heavily favored Norwin, 67-65, Greensburg advanced to the finals. In the final county championship game, Hempfield outplayed Greensburg 55-47. Although disappointed, we received some consolation by receiving the runner-up trophy.

Unfortunately, prospects for next year seem rather dim. Since there are no underclass lettermen, Coach Sibley will have to start from scratch. Maybe they will surprise us. Our hopes for next year are in juniors Joe Pidutti, Rick Muka, Bill Marino, Dan Pultz, Dennis Leshock, and Joe Zahorchak.

Wrestling

The 1960 wrestling season marked Greensburg's first under a new coach, Mr. Joseph Nava. The Greensburg grapplers, although captained worthily by Jack Moran, experienced a disappointing season. Starting shakily by losing to our first two opponents, our matmen bounced back by defeating our rivals, Hempfield and Jeannette. However, the wrestling squad was unable to maintain the luck necessary to complement their hard, long work and ability. Only twice more were they able to triumph.

In the post-season tournaments, though, a number of Greensburg matmen distinguished themselves. John Ross championed in his division, and Dan Kifer, Jack Moran, Mike Knatz, John Straka, and George Macko all took second place in their divisions, giving the team a second place. In the Section II tournament, the wrestlers missed first place by only three points. Again, they had two champions and two who took second place. Moving on to the WPIAL tournament were Jack Moran and John Ross, from where, if successful, they will advance to the state tournament.

If not by their record, then by their spirit and gameness, our wrestlers represented us well in the 1960 season.

Golf

They go from strength to strength

The Greensburg High School golf team of 1959, through their excellent play, were once again the masters of the links in section IV. Under the capable guidance of Mr. Shuster, the boys from Greensburg got off to a quick start by frustrating Norwin in an exhibition contest, 15-1. The regular season began on a happy note, the defeat of Connellsville by the score of 16-0. With increasing self-reliance, our golfers overcame Latrobe, Jeannette, Scottdale, and again Connellsville. Next to fall were Latrobe, 11½-4½; Hempfield, 11-5; Jeannette, 12½-3½; and Scottdale, 15-1. Having once again an undefeated season entitled our linksmen to competition in the W.P.I.A.L. quarter finals where we put up a gallant fight in losing to Beth Center, 10½-5½. In individual competition at Penn State on May 22, John Driscoll was in the upper one-fourth of the entered golfers.

The 1959 season was another triumph for Greensburg High School golfers, and the team has earned the respect for their hard work and good play.

Track

Every feat is to be overcome by endurance

In 1959, another outstanding track season was chalked up for the Greensburg Golden Lions. With only one loss to mar an otherwise perfect regular season record, the G. H. S. cindermen represented well our high school in the WPIAL competition. In the annual county meet, our track team finished fourth in a field of exceptionally strong teams. The boys under the tutelage of Mr. McLaughlin, copped an eighth place at the Uniontown Invitational meet. The fine performances on the part of many individuals during the 1959 track season made the year an even more enjoyable one for all concerned.

Tennis

Unfortunately the 1959 edition of the G. H. S. tennis team never quite got off the ground. However, it was definitely an improved team over the 1958 version.

Losing their first exhibition match to Charleroi, 1 to 4, the Brown and White moved into sectional competition, bowing to Irwin, 1-4; Connellsville, 2-3; Kiski, 0-5; and Latrobe, 0-5. On the second time around, the WPIAL competition still proved too much for the inexperienced Greensburg team as they again bowed to Irwin, Latrobe, and Kiski.

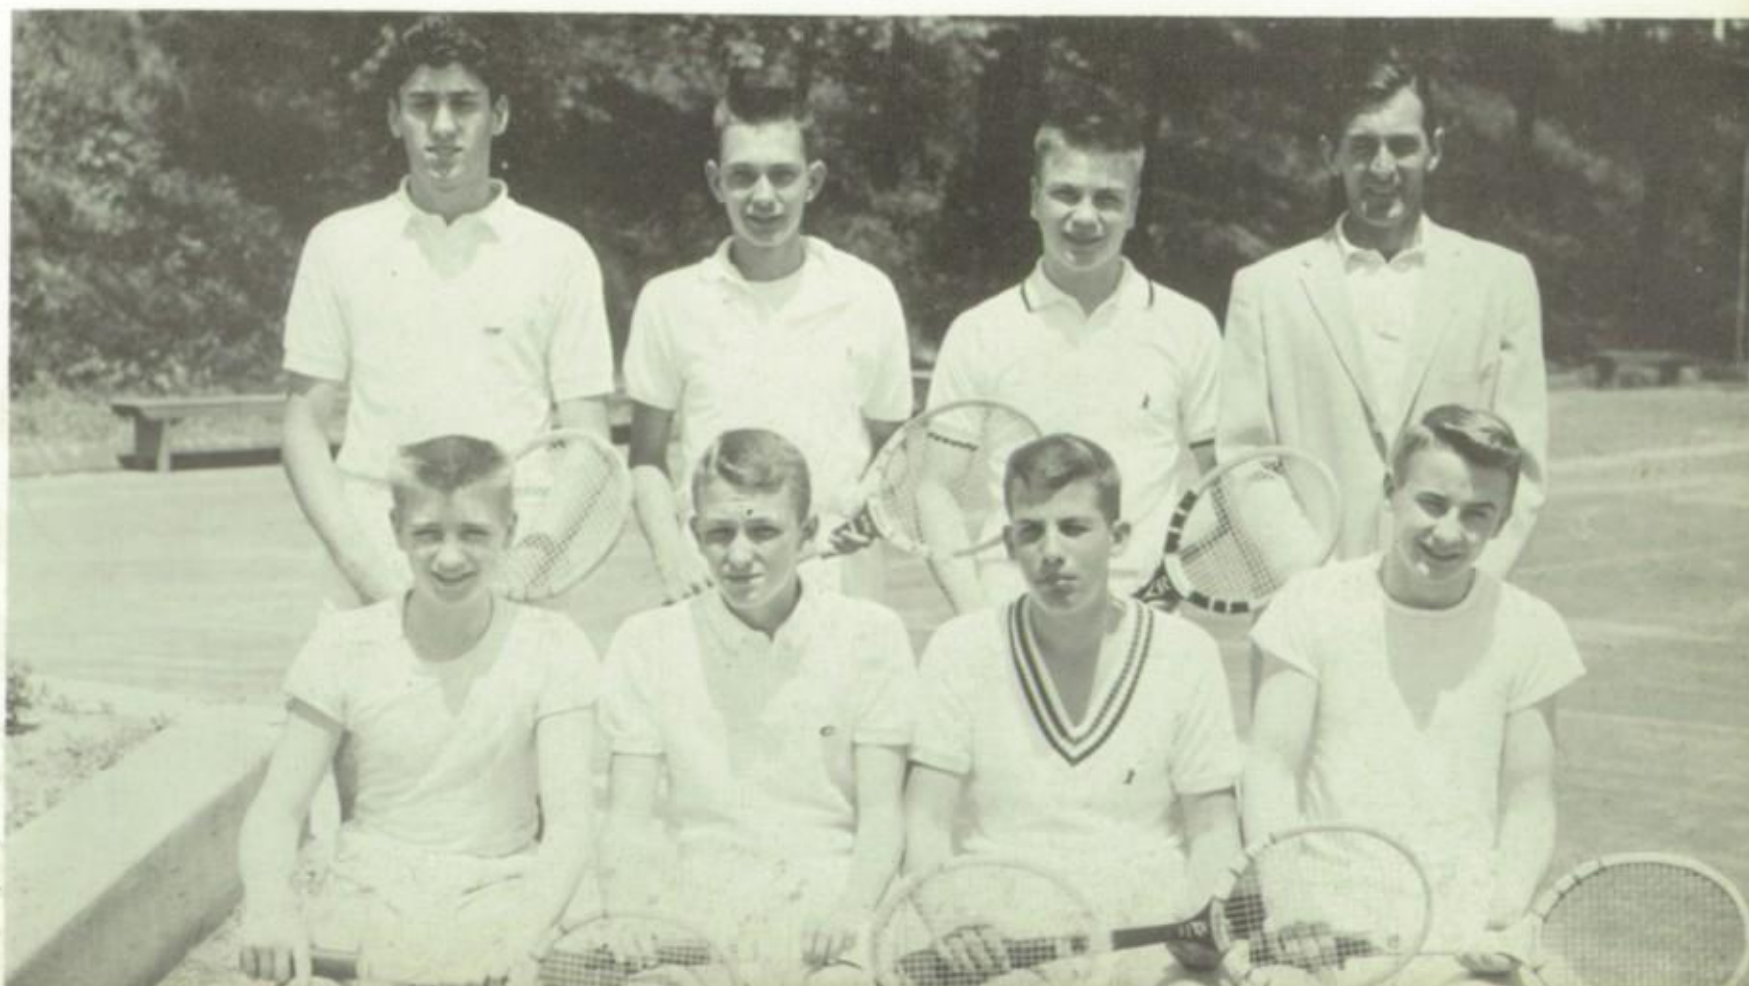

However, the future looks much brighter than the past. The team is fast losing its handicap of inexperience. Veterans Barry DeBone, Dewey Gallatin, Stan Pittler, and Bill Scott will be coming back for their third letter in tennis. Other team hopefuls for 1960 are lettermen Jack Austin, Gary Gerard, and Chuck Hendricks.

Despite their losses, the 1959 team was shut out only twice, compared with the 1958 record of 7 shutouts.

God is with those who persevere

Our past has gone into history

Remember when? It was September, 1957, and you were there as the sophomore class. Every year I watch a different group of students enter the halls of Greensburg High in my name. I am the spirit of the Senior Class. Glancing back three years to the Class of 1960, I see a class of undecided sophomores. Oh, how well I remember that day.

As you bounced into the school, I gazed at your exuberant anticipation of your first year in Greensburg Senior High School. Watching you burst into the auditorium, I was overwhelmed by your enthusiasm and excitement of your first pep assembly. Sitting in "peanut heaven", you screaming sophomores certainly did not appear timid that day. On those very special days when you dissected formaldehyde soaked frogs and fishes in biology, the fragrant odors drifted through the hall near 117 and 120. Dashing madly from the room into the hall and fresh air, everyone headed for a battle between soap and water and formaldehyde. Along with a terrific basketball season, came your first big money-making project. Eagerly peddling refreshments at basketball games, you watched your first class treasury grow. Your knees trembling, you brought forth the budding talent of the Class of 1960. Soiree night arrived, and gathered outside the high school you gazed longingly at the girls in their flowing, graceful gowns and handsome escorts. As the excitement of graduation drew near, you deemed your sophomore year a success and looked forward to being upper classmen.

Your junior year, you arrived full of renewed enthusiasm. Greeting your new principal with uncertainty, you accepted his leadership. Your first innovation was the split-lunch schedule, which enabled you to escape at three o'clock. As usual, you juniors complained about chemistry and chemistry lab. A puff of smoke, a mushroom cloud and "Good grief, are you sure you read the directions right?" Miss Treft's mad scientists were at it again. Finally the day arrived. You raced to the front bulletin board to see if you were eligible for a class ring. Then the weeks rushed by and suddenly it was Christmas time in the city. At the annual Christmas assembly, the choir members, in starched white collars and carrying candles, slowly walked into the auditorium. No sooner had you returned from Christmas vacation than you began preparations for your second talent assembly. Determined to improve on your sophomore assembly, your still budding talent waltzed through Greensburg Bandstand. As the turning point of the year drew nigh, you all became study conscious and crammed. There was no time to moan and groan about grades, as you had the split schedule to contend with and plans for the Soiree to formulate. Miss Barnes' famous cry was, "Will the junior rooms who haven't made their donation to the Soiree, please turn in your money." Eventually the committees were formed and then the fun and weeks of preparation for the big night began. While you boys made palm trees, the girls frantically dug in old jewelry boxes to find "precious stones" to fill the treasure chest. As May 1 drew near, you shared the excitement with the seniors. This year you realized that you would not be on the outside looking in. About nine o'clock gleaming cars began pulling up in front of the high school. Hearing a swish of organdy and a rustle of taffeta, I watched the ecstatic faces of the couples as they waltzed enchantingly around the gym transformed into an "Isle of Golden Dreams." Long after the departure of the sleepy-eyed couples, the dreams continued. Added to the Soiree excitement was the announcement that class rings had arrived. You looked forward for a successful and happy senior year at G. H. S.

On September 9, your senior class entered the hallowed halls of G. H. S. determined to make this, your senior year, a landmark in your life. Along with the beginning of school, came the beginning of football season. Once again the auditorium thundered with your cheering voices as you urged your team on to its first victory. With football season drawing to a close came the games with your two arch rivals, Hempfield and Jeannette. Myriads of loyal Greensburg fans thronged the Spartan stadium to watch your Lions retaliate and roar to a 25-0 victory. In appreciation for a winning football season, the annual Appreciation Day Assembly was held. Everyone was stunned at how our football heroes had changed as they charged to the stage in football helmets, sweatshirts, and skirts!

Boys put on their track shoes as the girls got out their clubs for your annual Sadie Hawkins Dance. The captured boys were dragged into the autumnal atmosphere of the gym. Performing the nuptials of Daisy Mae—Carol Grimm and Li'l Abner—Steve Thomas was Parson John Plischke.

Disorder was the word of the day when your senior pictures and name cards arrived. To keep order in class was impossible because you were cutting and exchanging pictures.

" 'Twas the night before Christmas" and the talent of your class finally burst into bloom. As the curtain rose, "ohs" and "ahs" resounded from every corner of the auditorium showing appreciation for the Christmas setting of Santa's workshop and the snow-covered forest. The audience sat captivated as Santa and his elves presented one excellent act after another. By the time the assembly closed with all the participants singing White Christmas, everyone was filled with the Christmas spirit.

When the giant pine was erected and decorated in the main lobby, you all realized that Christmas was just around the corner. You enjoyed the usual fare with the Christmas assembly presented by Special Choir and the annual Christmas dance.

Although your basketball team had a fair start, it improved with age and experience.

With the beginning of the second semester, you realized this was your second year on the split schedule. Your opinions were varied, but everyone is looking forward to the new school.

Lincoln's birthday was observed with the innovation of "dress-up" day. I glowed with pride at how grown-up you looked in your "Sunday best." Shillalahs and shamrocks added to your gaudiness on "clash" day. With growing horror I shrunk behind the trophy case as you arrived in wild combinations. Stripes and polka dots joined forces to make the most colorful students in the history of Greensburg High. I was rather relieved to see you return to normal dress.

March 18 your acting talents came to light as your senior class presented "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay." Sarah Erb and Joyce McArdle presented Cornelia Otis Skinner and Emily Kimbrough, while Bill O'Halloran and Dick Weikart turned in fine performances as principals of the play. When the curtain closed on the final act, an hysterical audience agreed that the Class of '60 had many theatrical minded students.

AND AWAY WE GO

Rosemary Sheridan, Pat Garofalo, Sondra Mika, Alyce Voytko

This year as in the past you enjoyed having a foreign exchange student attend G. H. S. This year your suave Frenchman, Frank Schon, made many friends and will leave a lasting impression on you.

On the evening of May 6 you captivated seniors "could have danced all night" at the Soiree given in your honor. On this enchanted evening I gazed wistfully at the unadorned beauty of the of the fair senior girls and their charming beaus. On Monday morning bleary-eyed juniors and seniors could hardly hold up their sleepy heads after a weekend of fun.

On May 20 you dignified seniors attended "an affair of state." Trumpets blaring, your glowing Queen of the May walked sedately down the aisle to the strains of Pomp and Circumstance. Loyal subjects entertained the Queen and her court. After the ceremonies you all attended the Coronation Ball.

With horns blaring, cars gaily bedecked in red, white, and pink, and excitement at a high pitch, class day was ushered in on May 27. The hills of Greensburg resounded to the joy of the Class of '60. Then with smiling faces and saddened hearts you put on your last assembly. Many eyes filled with tears as you sang your Alma Mater for the last time. I, too, stood with tear stained eyes at the memory of your high school years.

On June 5, you solemnly filed into the auditorium for the Baccalaureate Service. Your ears ringing with inspirational phrases, you faced the future promising to be an honor to your school.

Three days later your high school career really came to an end. Wearing proudly your white caps and gowns, you marched onto Offut Field. At last you received your diplomas, and an era of your life came to an end.

Yes, your days at G. H. S. were over, and I was proud to have been the spirit of the Class of 1960.
